

Define the Participant

The participant of this experience is students, specifically college students who are participating in classes. More specifically, participants are students who place high importance on their coursework for classes and care highly about grades. As well as students who need either assistance, a study buddy or want to meet people studying the same thing as them.